GTC Nutrition Announces Expansion of Ingredients Portfolio with the Addition of OatVantage®
Addition of Oat Fiber Ingredient Further Strengthens GTC's Customized, Health-Focused Nutrition Solutions

GOLDEN, Colorado, Thursday, November 2, 2006 – GTC Nutrition today announced that it has acquired the majority of assets of Nurture, Inc., a developer, manufacturer and marketer of high value-added ingredients derived from oats.

The acquisition adds Nurture, Inc.'s entire product line to GTC's ingredient portfolio, including its flagship ingredient, OatVantage® oat bran concentrate, an all natural, highly concentrated soluble oat fiber. The breakthrough technology behind OatVantage® permits soluble oat fiber to be available in both convenient, easy-to-swallow capsules and everyday foods.

Soluble oat fiber provides enhanced nutritional content, with beta-glucan percentages potentially reaching up to 54 percent. GTC Nutrition plans to market OatVantage® as a wellness solution that complements the Company's glycemic and heart health platforms.

The health benefits of oats have been recognized for centuries, and oat fiber is increasingly used to address health issues related to cardiovascular disease and weight control. The benefits associated with OatVantage® oat bran concentrate may include heart health, increased satiety and weight maintenance.

"This acquisition further strengthens our commitment to provide food, beverage and supplement manufacturers, as well as consumers, with customized ingredient solutions for improved health and wellness," said Patrick Smith, president of GTC Nutrition. "The scientific and technical foundation established by Nurture, Inc. for OatVantage® puts us in an ideal position to meet the growing demand for healthier, natural food alternatives."
